Cuba

EXPLORE. EMBRACE. ENGAGE.

A note from Renee

After creating and developing our successful event management company, Paragon Events, over 26 years ago, an intriguing opportunity was presented to me.

A veteran travel associate approached me with a surprise suggestion to travel to Cuba for a visit.

I came back fascinated by this beautiful country, and engaged by the culture, art, music and the warmth of the people.

After a dozen trips, and a year-long wait for the licensing, Cultural Explorations Cuba was born.

We knew we wanted to do something different. We wanted to provide exceptional programming and unique, cultural adventures. We wanted our guests to be “travelers not tourists” and with that, we created our programming for Cultural Explorations Cuba. With extraordinary culinary experiences utilizing the most innovative paladars and truly engaging people-to-people programming, we provide our travelers the opportunity to first hand truly learn about the complexity and culture that is Cuba.

Please journey with us to this beautiful country and experience its people.

Havana

Havana is the capital of Cuba. Steeped in Spanish Colonial architecture dating back to the 16th century, Havana is a colorful city where salsa emanates from the clubs and the famed Tropicana show still runs nightly. Take a stroll through Hemingway's favorite watering holes, La Floridita and La Bodeguita del Medio, or, with a slight drive away from town, you can immerse yourself in Hemingway's "Finca Vieja" and see where the great American author wrote two of his most celebrated novels.

Callejon de Hamel

Pinar Del Rio

Viñales, a romantic village with quaint colorful homes, is located in one of the most beautiful areas of Cuba. For nature lovers or those looking for a day trip to a peaceful place a couple of hours outside of Havana, Viñales is a must see.

Santa Clara

Santa Clara is located in the central region of the country and is surrounded by hills. One of the most popular attractions is the Che Guevara Museum. A city with a diverse and colorful cultural scene, it has a central park with wrought-iron benches, and colonial architecture. Enjoy a ride on an old locomotive and visit an old sugar mill or continue on to Cayo Santa Maria, Cienfuegos or Trinidad.

Varadero

Varadero, one of the largest resort towns in Cuba, is located just a short two hour drive from Havana. You will find one of the most celebrated white sand beaches and crystal clear waters of the Caribbean. Dine at the former Dupont home, now called Xanadu Mansion. Built in 1927, the mansion sits on a rocky hill overlooking a beautiful beach, and the property is host to the only 18-hole golf course in the Varadero area.

Frequently Asked Questions

What are the travel restrictions for Americans?

Traveling to Cuba without a specific license through OFAC (U.S. Office of Foreign Assets Control) is not legal for Americans. Our people-to-people license makes travel to Cuba legal and allows us to provide our travel guests with a unique cultural experience through the stories, music, and life experiences of the people.

Is Cuba safe for American travelers?

Cuba, in fact, has a very low crime rate. As with any foreign country you should be aware of petty crimes, like pick pocketing, but otherwise it is a very safe place. The Cuban people are very welcoming toward Americans, despite the political differences between the US and Cuba.

What else do I need to bring?

- Your passport, plus one legible black and white copy of your passport
- Additional cash for souvenirs and some tips
- Camera
- Toilet paper or tissues for public restrooms
- Hand sanitizer/Anti-bacterial wipes
- Sunscreen/Sun hat/Sunglasses
- Razor for shaving
- Personal medication, aspirin/ibuprofen, Tums
- Insect repellent

Is the water safe to drink in Cuba?

We recommend only drinking bottled water in Cuba. In hotels, tap water is safe for hygiene purposes. Bottled water can be easily purchased throughout Cuba.

Visit our website Cultural-Explorations.com for the latest regulations and restrictions on travel to Cuba.

What can I bring home from Cuba?

Travelers are able to purchase and bring back Cuban rum, cigars, art, coffee, clothes, etc. for personal use only. As of October 2016, the monetary limit on these items has been removed, so travelers may bring back souvenirs as long as it fits in their luggage. Please note: U.S. American citizens are prohibited to bring back any Cuban currency or CUCs.

What currency is used in Cuba and what is the exchange rate?

A dual currency system is used in Cuba. The Cuban convertible peso, also referred to as CUC, will be the currency you will use in Cuba. CUCs come in the following denominations: 1, 3, 5, 10, 20, 50, and 100. The Cuban peso, also called CUP, is only used by Cubans.

For information on exchange rates, visit www.xe.com.

Can I use credit cards in Cuba?

At this time credit cards issued by a U.S. Bank cannot be used in Cuba. Americans must travel with enough USD currency to cover any additional purchases, incidentals, and tipping.

How much money should I bring to Cuba?

We advise you to travel with no less than $500 USD, plus money for souvenirs. Please also note that all hotel incidentals such as international calls made from your room need to be paid in cash at the end of your stay because you are unable to put down a credit card issued from a US bank.

Passports & Cuban Visas

Each traveler is required to have a passport valid for six months after the return date of their scheduled trip. Travelers holding a passport from a foreign country, green card, U.S. visa, or special-use passport are solely responsible for understanding the limitations imposed on their passport, green card, U.S. visa, or special-use passport regarding re-entry back into the United States. Cultural Explorations Cuba cannot be held liable for a traveler who is refused service by the Carrier Service Provider or entry into Cuba because of a restricted U.S. visa or Passport or denial of a visa by the Cuban government. In the event the traveler is refused entry to Cuba because of Visa or Passport issues or denial of a visa by the Cuban Government, applicable cancellation penalties may apply.

Cuban-born Travelers

The traveler acknowledges that the Cuban Government imposes different requirements for Cuban-born persons traveling to Cuba than others, and that such a person obtaining a Cuban visa, if needed, can take a minimum of eight (8) to twelve (12) weeks. Cultural Explorations Cuba suggests that all Cuban-born persons wishing to participate in the program contact Cultural Explorations Cuba. Cultural Explorations Cuba is not responsible for any information it provides to travelers in this regard, or for any delay or denial in the issuance of a Cuban visa, if required.

Medical Insurance & Airfare

Effective as of May 2010, the Cuban government requires all international travelers to purchase a health insurance plan through Cuba. This rule applies to all overseas visitors as well as Cubans living abroad. Airlines with commercial flights to Cuba usually provide their own medical travel insurance plans to passengers. In most cases, this is included in the cost of a round-trip flight. Please check with your airline for further details on their medical insurance plan options.

Cultural Explorations Cuba offers the ability to secure flight reservations to and from Cuba for our clients and their guests. We provide this service as an add-on package and rates may vary according to departure location and time of year. Please inquire about our add-on air packages when booking your trip with us.

Trip Insurance

We strongly advise our travelers to purchase travel protection through our TripAssure plan as it offers a wealth of important benefits and coverage including medical expenses, trip cancellation, interruption, or delay, lost or delayed baggage, etc. To learn more about TripAssure, please visit our website.
